Grey Whale Gin

Grey Whale Gin

Here at Gray Whale Gin, we believe a lovingly handcrafted spirit brings people together for good times, and while we're together we can also do some good in the world. It's a simple notion that we cooked up on a camping trip to Big Sur. We were humbled by California's stunning beauty, feeling lucky to be on that rocky coast, surrounded by ancient trees, and the endless blue of the Pacific Ocean. Looking out past McWay Falls at the turquoise sea we saw a Gray Whale and its calf on their own road trip up North. A trip Gray Whales have been making for more than 30 million years, long before we stood up on two legs. Now, we celebrate their 12,000 mile journey, with a beautiful gin made of botanicals foraged along the migratory path of that majestic creature, from Temecula limes to sea kelp in Mendocino; as well as a few stops in between. Every bottle of Gray Whale Gin supports Oceana, protecting and restoring the world's oceans, so that Gray Whales will continue to make that epic journey for another 30 million years.

Puerto de Indias Sweet Melon

Puerto de Indias Sweet Melon

The name Puerto de Indias relates to the discovery of America when 16th century Seville was a main port for trade between Europe and the “New World”, and became known as Puerto de Indias, a place of splendour and adventure. The bottle’s shape and medallion are inspired by the “Torre del Oro” (The Gold Tower), one of Seville’s most iconic monuments and the vibrant center of the city’s port. You can see the green colour of our Sweet Melon Gin with shine, and against the light, rounded and unctuous tears with green reflections appear. On the nose, the aroma is clearly dominated by melon and juniper. In the mouth, a powerful melon flavour initially invades, followed by a slightly citric evolution with a sweet and fresh finish, which is soft and fresh at the same time.

Falernum

Falernum

Falernum was invented in Barbados in the nineteenth century, from a mixture of rum, fruit and local spices, to drink as a tonic, simply diluted on ice or to soften rums of the past. After years of experimentation Edoardo Nono and the team of Rita & Cocktails in Milan, together with Memfi Baracco from Compagnia dei Caraibi have created a Falernum able to reach a wide market without losing its primary handmade qualities. In addition to Edoardo's expertise and passion, Caribbean white rum, demerara full proof, ginger, spices, bitter almonds, limes, lemons, and sugar contribute to its production. The Mr. Three & Bros Falernum is deep cloudy yellow in color. On the nose citrus fruit and the fragrant notes of bitter almonds are predominant. Versatile and chameleon-like in mixology – irreplaceable in Tikis, surprising with bitters and in combination with citrus distillations.

Briottet Wild Peach Liqueur

Maison Briottet is a family business, founded in 1836. Originally, the family were primarily negociants of Burgundy wine, involved with ageing, blending, bottling and selling the wines. Following the development of the blanc cassis aperitif (white wine with Crème de Cassis), the company progressively focused its activities on producing fruit cremes, liqueurs, brandies and marcs de Bourgogne. Briottet's liqueurs are acclaimed by the world's best bartenders to create unique cocktails. A very delicate, and beautiful crème de peche. White "vine" peaches come from Burgundy from specific plantations which are located beside vineyards. The maceration production process —the same as that used for grapes —takes the extreme fragility of the fruit into account. Said fragility explains why so little "vine" peaches are harvested each year, making it a rare and sought-after product. The high quality of Briottet's Special Peach Cream is down to us using a "vine" peach variety which is subtle yet powerful and which is only harvested in the beautiful Burgundy region.

coast where the Spanish used to cultivate Valencia oranges following their arrival from Europe. Briottet Curacao Triple Sec is colourless liqueur obtained from the double distillation of bitter orange zest, seville orange peel and other aromatics (some secret spices). Unlike the standard Orange Curacao, Curacao Triple Sec is a much drier style (sec means dry in French) of liqueur, so less sugar is added. It is also bottled at a higher abv of 40%. Rich and citrusy with a dominant scent of fresh orange peels, along with subtle hints of vanilla and spices. Sweet and smooth, with a rich and complex flavour.

Xila Agave & Chili Liqueur

XILA is made with roasted pineapple, ancho chile, cinnamon, pepper, clove, hibiscus and lavender. We hand pick our botanicals because when I was building the recipe, I only worked with small quantities that I counted by hand. I tried to replicate that in bigger batches, but all the ingredients are small and come in different forms and sizes. There's one person for each note. It is important to keep that quality control because otherwise it's going to be too spicy or too floral. We then macerate the botanicals in the mezcal for seven days. Next, we create a homemade simple syrup and add it to the vat. Finally, we let it rest for another seven days. Then we filter it with a cheese cloth seven times.

Vecchio Magazzino Doganale (old customs warehouse) is a liqueur factory and a rural farm located in Montalto Uffago, Calabria. Founded by creative entrepreneur Ivano Trombino, the company specialises in cultivating and selecting botanicals and citrus fruits around Calabria and produces unique and authentic liqueurs. Ivano found his inspiration in the ancient recipes, letters and diaries of his grandfather Egidio. The story goes that in 1871 Egidio and three American sailors, one of them Captain Jefferson, survived a shipwreck in the Calabrian waters and sought refuge at the Vecchio Magazzino Doganale. With support of the owner of the farm, Giocondo, the castaway's new lives soon centred around the production of a special liqueur, today known as Jefferson Amaro Importante, against a backdrop of wonderful flavours, citrus fruits, spices and herbs. Jefferson Amaro offers notes of gentian, rosemary, oregano and citrus nuances that give way to sensations of sweet spices in the background. It is soft and smooth on the palate, well balanced, with an herbal finish. The ingredients are processed separately in a water-alcohol infusion, preserving the raw materials and seasonality. This is why the assemblage of Jefferson takes more than 11 months, never resorting to artificial aromas or coloring agents – a linen cloth is the only means used for filtering. Awarded the world's best liqueur at the 2018 World Liqueur Awards.

Codet Peardise

Liquor

Godet Peardise

A unique combination of pear essence and Cognac, based on a centuries-old recipe. It blends Cognac with the sweetness of ripe pears that have been aged in French oak barrels to add more depth. It is intended for both mixology and pure enjoyment, making it an excellent liqueur to have on hand to add a sweet touch to your everyday life.

Tasting Notes, Color: Antique gold, Aroma: Surprisingly fresh on the nose, opening with orchard fruits, mingled with a delicate elderflower note, Palate: Round, appetizing, with fine pear notes that develop into a clear, fresh, and expressive finish.

The Godet family traces its origins back to Bonaventure Godet, a merchant of Dutch descent who settled in La Rochelle in the 16th century. Thanks to its strategic location on the Atlantic coast, he began exporting wine and salt. To better preserve the wines, he had them distilled—thus, Cognac was born. This innovation quickly gained popularity, even among royal courts.

Today, five centuries later, the Godet brothers—Jean-Édouard, Maxime, and Cyril—continue the family tradition in the 15th generation. While most modern Cognacs are primarily made from the juice of the Ugni Blanc grape, Godet takes a different approach: they focus on rare grape varieties such as Folle Blanche, Montils, and Colombard to create unique expressions.

Capucana Cachaça

Rum

Capucana Cachaça

Cachaça is a distilled spirit made from fermented sugarcane juice. It is the most popular spirit among distilled alcoholic beverages in Brazil. Capucana begins with the harvesting of the best sugar canes from three family owned estates in Capuava, St. Lydia & Bertioga situated in Piracicaba, near Sao Paulo, selected to achieve a unique bouquet representing the floral, sweet and mineral properties of the terroir of each estate. After distillation the final blend is a union of non-aged cane distillate and barrel aged cane distillate, from ex bourbon and Islay oak barrels and aged for up to 3 years. Capu

Cana was the name the local workers gave the distillery when it was built in the 19th century and translates as “House of the Canes”. The name is still used within the local community. Capucana is a citrusy style of cachaça that is excellent as a base for cocktails. It has a fresh nose of aloe vera, orange and biscuits. On the palate it has similarities to rum alongside notes of honey blossom and stewed fruit.

Takamaka Rum Blanc

In 2000, Bernard and his father Robert began experimenting with rum production after ordering a book on home distillation. Their interest was inspired by their grandfather René Michel d'Offay, who made the Creole speciality Rum Arrangé by macerating fruits, spices, and botanicals in alcohol for months. Lacking proper equipment, Bernard and Robert improvised with homemade tools, even using their backyard swimming pool as a cooling tower while fermenting supermarket sugar and yeast. Bernard's brother Richard later joined them, and after more than a year of experimentation—producing both poor and promising results—they officially opened Trois Frères Distillery in Seychelles in February 2002 and delivered their first Takamaka dark rum. Over time, Richard and Bernard refined their craft through curiosity, experimentation, and the challenges of operating in the remote Seychelles. It's impacted how they blend and age their rum, it's forged the role they play in their community and it's shaped who they are today as people, and as rum makers.

This no-nonsense, light white rum is the beating heart of all Takamaka rums. A touch of high-ester pot still rum provides a soft, creamy character and natural aromatic undertones typical of this Indian Ocean island. This is a column still molasses based rum distilled up to 94% and then diluted with pure island spring water to bottling strength. This light, tropical rum mixes well in classics such as Mojito, Cuba Libre, Daiquiri or Piña Colada and is best in company of good friends.

Martinez Marsala Superiore Riserva Dolce

Martinez Marsala Superiore Riserva Dolce

In Marsala, on the westernmost tip of Sicily, lies Cantina Martinez, established in 1866. As one of the oldest wineries, it has remained true over time to the product it was founded for: Marsala, the most prestigious of Italian DOC fortified wines. About the wine: During the concia process, which is the stage when the type of Marsala being produced is defined, alcohol, mistelle and cooked must are added to the wine, giving it an intense amber colour. The ageing process then begins in oak casks where the wine is in contact with the air for a number of years, developing its characteristic oxidative bouquet. Tasting notes: Copper-brown, sweet, fig notes, apricot notes, date notes, yellow raisin notes, hint of nut, long. Pairing: Sweet but not cloying, this is an ideal wine to enjoy particularly with desserts made from ricotta or dried fruit; it also pairs well with chocolate from Modica or 60% dark chocolate. Can be served as a refined aperitif with blue cheeses.

Tito's Handmade Vodka

Tito's Handmade Vodka is a vodka brand distilled and bottled by Fifth Generation Inc. in Austin, Texas on the very same land where the whole venture started. In 1995, Bert "Tito" Beveridge obtained the first legal permit to distill in Texas and created Tito's Handmade Vodka. The brand specialises in vodka made from yellow corn, rather than potatoes or wheat. The naturally gluten-free vodka is unaged and unflavored, and distilled using old-fashioned copper pot stills, inspired by the distillation methods of fine single malt scotches and high-end French cognacs. Tito's is made in batches, each batch taste-tested, and goes down smooth with an impeccably clean finish.

Highland Park 12 Years Old

First established in 1798, Highland Park Distillery on Orkney is celebrated for its unique combination of traditional craftsmanship, Viking-inspired heritage, and its island's cool maritime climate. Highland Park 12 Years Old, often considered the heart of the range, showcases the distillery's signature balance of gentle smoke, aromatic honey, and rich malt character. Its reputation as one of Scotland's most consistent single malts has earned it global admiration.

Jim Beam White

Jim Beam White, known as Jim Beam Bourbon, stands as the flagship expression of one of America's oldest bourbon distilleries. Founded in 1795, the Beam family has crafted bourbon for over seven generations, shaping the classic Kentucky style through tradition, consistency, and an unwavering commitment to quality. Jim Beam White is widely recognized as one of the world's best-selling bourbons, offering an approachable introduction to the authentic Beam flavor profile. This bourbon is crafted from a mash bill dominated by corn, supported by rye and malted barley, and aged for a minimum of four years in new, charred American oak barrels. The four-year maturation gives the whisky its signature balance of sweetness, oak, and warm spice. Beam's proprietary yeast strain—used for over 80 years—further defines the spirit's character, adding layers of subtle fruit and depth to the bourbon's foundation.

Aromas of vanilla, caramel, and light oak rise from the glass, followed by flavors of sweet corn, gentle spice, and soft oak on the palate. The whiskey is smooth, easy-drinking, and warmly balanced, finishing with a hint of caramel and a touch of spice. Jim Beam White is approachable, versatile, and unmistakably Kentucky—perfect for sipping neat, mixing in cocktails, or enjoying however bourbon fits your moment.

Micil Earl Island Single Pot Still

Whisky

Micil Earl Island Single Pot Still

Micil Distillery is named in honour of our great-great-great grandfather, Micil Mac Chearra, who began distilling poitín in 1848 on a Connemara hillside. For six generations and over 170 years our family have preserved the craft, distilling extraordinary spirits made using family recipes, craft knowledge and time-honoured techniques. About the whiskey: A fruity, spicy Single Pot Still Irish whiskey enriched by Bordeaux red wine casks, with hints of soft turf smoke from ex-peated whiskey casks. It pays homage to the great Galway distilleries of the past, and to the Latin wine merchants of old who made the city their home. Exceptional because the red wine finish from the ex-Bordeaux casks imparts an incredible depth of rich fruit and spice to the spirit, enhancing the soft spice and ripe barley character of the pot still whiskey. Tasting notes: Micil Earls Island has wondrous spice notes, full of boiled sweets, apple drops, touches of maraschino cherries and slightly tart redcurrants and rhubarb. There's copious spice, cinnamon and nutmeg, along with marzipan and toasted nuts. Delightfully moreish.

Copenhagen Sparkling Tea BLÅ Organic

Founded in 2017 in Copenhagen, Sparkling Tea embodies a fusion of Nordic innovation and Asian tea heritage. A hand-crafted and organic sparkling beverage. The Sparkling Tea category originated in 2010, created by award-winning sommelier Jacob Kocemba during his time at a Michelin-starred restaurant in Copenhagen, Denmark. He realised the many possibilities within the world of tea, when he couldn't find a matching wine for a dessert, despite a wine cellar of more than 1,700 wines. Instead, the solution came in a homemade tea extract, which consisted of a blend of different exclusive teas. The new drink became a great success and a favorite amongst the guests of the restaurant. To live out the dream of making Sparkling Tea a new global beverage category, Jacob partnered up with Bo Sten Hansen in 2017. The two founders have since the beginning shared the dream of producing the world's best sparkling non-alcoholic beverage because everyone deserves a good glass of sparkling! About the tea: Grapejuice and 13 tea varieties. BLÅ starts out with delicate aromas of Jasmine, chamomile and a hint of citrus. This is followed by a round taste from the careful selection of white teas and accompanied by good complexity and depth from the green teas. It ends in a long finish joined by comfortable tannins created by the Darjeeling First Flush. The colour is light green with yellow nuances.

Champagne Aspasia Brut Réserve

Heir to a long line of Champagne winemakers, Paul-Vincent Ariston and his wife Caroline perpetuate two centuries of wine-making tradition in Brouillet, a village in the Vallée de l'Ardre, west of Reims. A notarial deed, dated January 13, 1794, attests to this. For five generations, the family has cultivated the art of the vine and perpetuates a unique know-how, rich in experiences, gestures and passions handed down day after day. Although the farm has evolved over time, borrowing from modernity elements of progress and dynamism, each of these contributions has been integrated with the utmost vigilance and with respect for the fundamental values of the House: demand for quality and fidelity to tradition. Champagne Aspasia is certified HVE (High Environmental Value) and VDC (Sustainable Champagne Viticulture) and has been converting to Organic Agriculture since 2022. As an ambassador for its region, Maison Aspasia operates 12 hectares of vineyards, of which the "Old Vines" of almost 30 years make up the majority. About the wine: Mix of two different crus with reserve wines, whose proportion may vary depending on the year. Bright golden colour with lemon yellow reflections. Delicate and bright bubbles. Floral nose with hints of hawthorn, acacia and orange flowers. The palate is soft and fresh with a minerality of sand and limestone that gives a certain delicacy and salty structure. It is a champagne that offers an extraordinary bouquet of white flowers.

Sieur d'Arques, located in Limoux, 25 km south of Carcassonne, has been producing exceptional wines since 1946. It has made a name for itself in the Languedoc region as a creator of wines which artfully marry tradition with technical knowhow. Regarded as a pioneer in terms of production quality, viticulture and winemaking techniques, Sieur d'Arques has been working on its plot selection, from over 1,800 ha of Appellation d'Origine Contrôlée vineyards, since the 1980s. With the Mediterranean sun and heat tempered by both the Atlantic influence and the altitude (near the Pyrenees), the terroir of Limoux boasts perfect conditions for the production of fine wines. Its traditional expertise, combined with its constant pursuit of quality excellence and technical mastery, enable it to produce fine wines to suit the palates of the most demanding of wine drinkers. About the wine: Grapes are exclusively hand-picked at the optimal ripening. There is a first fermentation in vats under controlled temperature at 16°C. The second fermentation called "prise de mousse" takes place slowly in the bottle. Ageing on laths between 12 and 15 months. Tasting

Tasting notes: This wine displays a lovely mousse with long-lingering bubbles and a salmon pink hue. It offers up a complex blend of varietal aromas, aromas of white-fleshed fruit (pears and peaches), along with slight nectarine hint from Pinot. Nestled in the beating heart of Villars-Fontaine, in Burgundy's mystical Hautes-Côtes de Nuits, our maison whispers tales of yesteryear. This is where Arnaud, our master winemaker transforms high-altitude organic bounty into liquid poetry. Arnaud Boué created the Maison in 2018, without a family estate or winegrowing heritage. Starting from scratch, he established himself as a négociant-vinificateur, with the determination to vinify the great terroirs of the Côte de Nuits with precision and sincerity. The Iconoclaste cuvée was born of an idea that's off the beaten track in Burgundy:

blending. In our region, which has become a master at promoting terroir and parcel-based vinification, this practice is not widely used in small-scale structures. But what if the blending of different terroirs could produce a great wine? Each contributing its own minerality, richness and freshness. Appellation Coteaux Bourguignons. About the wine: Static cold settling for 24 hours, followed by fermentation in stainless steel vats. Aged 18 months without stirring, including 12 in old barrels. # Wine Maison Foucher Sauvignon Petit Le Mont

Maison Foucher Sauvignon Petit Le Mont

Maison Foucher was established in 1921 at the heart of the Centre Loire vineyard, between Pouilly-Fumé and Sancerre, by the dynamic Paulin Lebrun. Originally a cooper, he started growing his business by selling wine in his own barrels to local cafés and restaurants. Over the past century, only five winemakers have been at the head of Maison Foucher. Their common desire was to pass on their values and passion. Today, this strong legacy is embedded in the wines of Maison Foucher and is represented by the current director Marc Vappereau. About the wine: To find a precise and natural expression of Sauvignon Blanc, with all that is simple and joyful about this grape variety, while at the same time preserving the links with its origins, those fine terroirs found in the most continental parts of southern Touraine. Such was the thinking behind the development of 'PetiteMont'. This balanced wine has subtle fruity aromas with elegant freshness.

It was in this special landscape that, in 2004, Rosanna and Diego Pressenda set out to bring their dream to life—first as a family project, and then as a flourishing winery. In the heart of the DOC Langhe region, the vineyards of Diego Pressenda initially cultivated native varieties such as Dolcetto, Barbera, and Nebbiolo, with the later addition of Rhine Riesling. These grapes are grown using sustainable practices, respecting the environment and ecosystem. The winery's entire production cycle, from vineyard to bottling, is designed to be eco-friendly. The winemaking process combines modern techniques with traditional methods. State-of-the-art equipment is used for pressing the grapes and fermenting the must, while the maturation takes place in the barricaia, a cellar dug into the Langa tuff. This material is ideal for maintaining the optimal temperature and humidity for aging wines in wooden barrels. About the wine: Maceration on the skins for ten days, maturation in French oak barriques for approximately fourteen to eighteen months. The Donato is a wine with a pale garnet color and strong aromas of wax, wood and dried fruit. Notes of tobacco and pepper are also present. Strong and powerful with soft tannins and bight acidity.

Lini Lambrusco Scuro

The Lini Winery (IGP Emilia-Romagna) has always distinguished itself with its range of Lambrusco and has put in years of hard work, research and oenological trials to develop the use of the Metodo Classico (as used in the production in Champagne) for Lambrusco. Founded in 1910, Lini 910 is a fourth-generation, family-owned and operated winery, producer of Emilia's leading wines including the first-ever Lambrusco included in Wine Spectator's Top 100 Wines of Italy. For the production of Lini's classic Martinotti-method

Lambrusco (also known as Charmat-method Lambrusco), a still Lambrusco is produced and then racked to pressurized, temperature-controlled tanks where the second fermentation is provoked. The wines are then aged on their lees until the desired complexity and nuance are achieved. About the wine: Lini's wines are renowned for their signature freshness and classic dry character. Thanks to Fabio Lini's artisanal approach to sparkling wine production, their bright red fruit and berry flavors are balanced by juicy minerality in this dry and complex style lambrusco. The clean but lingering finish makes it an ideal pairing for a wide variety of cuisines.

Skinny Hard Berries

Other

Skinny Hard Berries

Juicy. Bold. Sophisticated.

An exclusive blend of berries — hand-selected from the sun-drenched fields of Barcelona to the rich, fertile soils of Sicily. A deep, juicy product profile with the natural sweetness and mouthfeel of real cane sugar — sweetened only with pure stevia leaf from South America and naturally fermented erythritol.

Blended with high-quality organic vodka. Perfectly balanced — refreshingly light, yet indulgent.
